

Account Supervisor

Ward, a Houston PR agency celebrating 30 years of award-winning work for a variety of B2C and B2B clients offers an opportunity for a talented, team player eager to join a winning team.

If you're the ideal candidate, you:

- are a creative problem-solver, unafraid to suggest a new idea
- have a nose for news and track news voraciously
- plan and execute publicity, engagement, response strategies
- have good relationships with reporters and producers
- write, edit and proofread well
- can show a track record of impressive story placements
- integrate campaigns with owned and paid digital
- have agency experience and place a high value on client service
- present well and earn respect as a trusted advisor
- take initiative, work well independently and with others
- have command of PR technology and tools to create and share content
- are a stickler for budget and schedule management
- can produce an event in your sleep
- love being on a team with a shared goal
- love to learn and grow

Ward pays competitive salaries, provides excellent benefits and an opportunity for great people to do great work for great clients.

Sound like a place you could thrive? Then we want to meet you. Talk to us today!
ghambrick@wardcc.com.